THE JEWISH STUDIES PROGRAM, THE DEPT. OF SOCIOLOGY AT UC DAVIS, AND THE ISRAEL INSTITUTE PRESENT:

EATING FOR CHANGE
GLOBAL AND LOCAL PERSPECTIVES ON FOOD AND TRANSFORMATION

May 16, 2018

Social Science & Humanities Bldg. 273
University of California, Davis One Shields Avenue, Davis, CA 95616

Organizing Committee: Charlotte Glennie, Hannah Poore, Kelsey Meagher, Alana Stein and Rafi Grosglik - The Department of Sociology, University of California, Davis.

In what ways do food and foodways partake in social change?

How are new culinary trends affected by contemporary cultural, economic, technological and political processes?

What is the role of food in struggles for social justice and equity?

How are interactions between states, markets, social movements and individuals shaping and re-shaping food practices today?

Join us at this one-day conference as we tackle the notions of change and transformation underpinning contemporary and historical processes of food production, consumption and distribution.

Conference Topics: food, science and technology; culinary culture and consumption; local and regional food policies and the political economy of food in USA, Israel, Jordan, Vietnam, Ecuador and Mexico.

For more information, please email: rgrosghik@ucdavis.edu

Food provided throughout the day. All are welcome to attend.